

Uphold Organization Networks

First of all, thank you. Thank you for your work to make your community a better place. Thank you for taking the road less traveled and caring about others. Thank you for considering joining our team and expanding your projects that include children with disabilities. In some cases, thank you for considering expanding your projects to include children with disabilities. It is a privilege and an honor to change the world with you.

Second, we believe in you. We don't want to change what you're doing, or micro-manage all that you've accomplished thus far. We just want to help you do it again and again, becoming better and better each time. We believe in organizations that are movers, shakers, and world changers and we believe that your organization has the capacity to be that!

Third, we want to help. Our heartbeat always has been and always will be to help existing grassroots organizations help more children with disabilities. We believe that the best way to do this is through creating a network of incredible organizations like yours that specialize in various outreach approaches and helping them work together. The more brains and hands on deck the better, as long as they keep the main thing the main thing.

Fourth, we need you. We need you to work with other organizations to help eliminate one another's struggles in outreach, to encourage one another in your work, and to move forward as a collective force to change this issue.
